

the big knit

making winter warmer
for older people

my innocent hatometer

How to use your hatometer:

1. Fill in your name in at the top so no one else tries to pinch your hatometer and claim it as their own.
2. Decide how many hats you'd like to knit and write your target in big numbers in pen in the bobble (that way you can't change it later).
3. Pin it up, then write some numbers up the side so you can measure your knitting progress.
4. Every time you finish a hat, colour in a bit of your smoothie bottle so that everyone can see what an industrious knitter you are.
5. Give yourself a jolly big pat on the back when you get to the top.
